SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 8, 1859. HOW RARRY TAMED "CRUISER."

We find the following statement in an English paper, showing how Mr. Rarey succeeded in taming "Cruiser," a most vicious animal, which was perfectly unmanage-

"Accompanied by one individual alone, a nobleman of undisputable nerve, temper and physical strength Mr. Rarey proceeded to the encounter. As we have heard the story told, his injunctions to his comrade were characteristic enough. Whatever happens, my lord, said he, don't you speak or interfere; at least, not until you see me down under his feet, and him worrying me.' This compact made, he resolutely walked into the arena, which consisted of a loose box divided Apr by a half door of some four feet or more in height. Stepping quietly up to this barrier he leaned his arm upon it, so that it was just covered by the iron bar that ran along the top, and looked fixedly at the savage he intended to tame. 'Cruiser,' from whom muzzle, headstall, and all such impediments had been removed, we believe, by some mechanical arrangements-for none dared to go near enough to touch him-made his usual dash Jun at the intrepid stranger, to pounce upon him as a cat would on a mouse. Rarey stood perfectly motionless, neither altering his attitude nor the expression of his countenance in the J'ly slightest degree.-Thinking he had his enemy by the arm, the horse seized and worried at the bar as if he would have bitten it through. Again and again retiring for an impetus to the farther corner, he rushed at the mysterious stranger, actually screaming in the uncontrollable violence of his rage. Rarey sustained these succesive charges with the same sang froid that he had shown at the commencement of the engagement. At length after more than an hour of this wild scene, with its frantic fury on one side, and calm, scientific superiority on the other, the redoubtable | Wheat. 'Cruiser,' blown exhausted, dripping with sweat, and completely puzzled in his equine mind as to the properties of this figure, which he could no longer believe to be human, came quietly close to it, and true to his nature, warped as it was, smelt at it, and touched it with his nose; then Rarey threw open the half-door and walked boldy up to

The last sentence speaks volumes. It was a trait not of the system, so much as of the man. But what confidence the man must had in his system, thus to preserve his coolness and equanimity in a position which to every one but himself would have been of mortal danger! The 'salt was now on the bird's tail,' and when his own peculiar method had been resorted to, and 'Cruiser' converted into a quiet, docile, and not particularly showy hack-had been ridden before astonished hundreds-the horse tamer was universally recognized as such."

CURIOUS LETTER FROM A SUICIDE. The Hon. John A. Tucker, who committed suicide a few weeks ago in Georgia, left behind him the following letter, addressed to "P. H. Colquitt, editor of the Columbus Times:

DAWSON, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16. -I am about to do a thing which I have had in contemplation since 1848, viz: to rid the world of me, and myself of an existence useless to me, and derogatory to others. And, Mr. Editor, how dare you or any of your readers, say it is weak, or wrong. or unmanly, to perform the act that I am about to perform. Life is a burden to me-has been for years. I am driven on by a destiny I have no power to control! Don't say to me, "It is your fault-you could act differently-I have prayed to act differently—I have prayed to God to help me to the 2d Monday. act differently. He knows my wish and purpose was to be a good man. This I have prayed for from boyhood; and yet I have not been a good man. "There is a divinity that shapes our ends." There is a power that drives us on like a feather before the wind, and we have as little power to direct our course as the feather in the gale.

Now, with all my sins, follies and vices clinging to my skirts, I am going, unbidden, into the pre-sence of my God, to ask Him why I am not the man I always desired to be; to ask what punishment I am to receive for knowing my duty, desiring to perform it, and yet not having the nerve Don't say I am drunk, either, for it is not so. I tell you, Peyton Colquitt, that I am doing this thing upon reflection. I lay all night thinking of it. I have looked at all the reasons for and against it. In some respects I have been a successful man. As certain as the world stands, I would beat the race for Judge by more than the Democratic majority. That is not the thing with me. I would not live to be President of the United States unless I could be the man I wish to be. From a boy, I wished to be a great and good man-a man exerting a great, salutary, moral influence on mankind. But as it is, I am shedding death-shade and mildew from the high places in the land.

I would have waited till I got home, but I know it would not do. I would then never have discharged the duty I owe to myself and mankind. I could not part with my wife and little ones. Several times in the last few years I have prepared myself for this event at home, when my wife knew nothing of it. But to look at the children and hear them say "pa," or to look at a smiling, affectionate wife, that anticipated my wishes—that forgave a thousand follies-that never did an unkind act-I did not have the courage to proceed. But, be-lieving, as I do, that my departure from this life will benefit my family, as well as others. I am going to die here to-day. I have plenty of friends who will be sorry for this; but to all of them I say, John A. Tucker never professed friendship to any one that he deserted in the hour of trial. My wife and my little ones I commend to your care.

TUCKER.

SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA.
CAPITAL OVER $250,000,
AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING.
The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any other Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of THE CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 16th of March, 1854, since which time over five thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over thirty thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having trebled our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering pros-pects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States.

All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. Christopher Neale, H. W. Thomas,
